To Whom It May Concern:

The Westford Public School community was fortunate to spend the day with Brian Gordon, Program Director, and Kim Zahlaway, Clinical Director from Spotlight. Mr. Gordon and Ms. Zahlaway trained our staff in understanding the strengths and needs of children with social/emotional deficits and the use of acting games for pragmatic training.

One teacher summed up the opinion of most stating, "I came right back to school and have been playing a few of the games with my whole class each day. The students love the games. It's great to have the whole class laughing and working as a community. "

I left the train with a variety of tools and techniques to enhance my social skills groups, and had lots of fun in the process of learning them. I highly recommend this training to other districts seeking to better meet the needs of their students with social skills deficits.

Sincerely,

Dianna Fulreader, LICSW
